Description

A very good example of one of these highly sought-after little silver fronted Hymn books depicting the charming and ever-popular Reynold's Angels. The solid or sterling silver to the front is clearly hallmarked for Birmingham 1906, a true Edwardian example; the makers mark is also present L & S for Levi and Salaman. The black leather binding has its original untouched patina, minor wear commensurate with age. The spine is gold embossed "Hymns A & M". The interior is nice and clean (a few pen marks, insignificant but mentioned for accuracy) and the pages edged in gold. Very good condition, measuring 2" x 1 3/4".
