Description

Late C18th George III period mahogany chest-on-chest or tall-boy. Capacious mahogany Georgian period mahogany chest-on-chest of 2 short and 6 long 'cock-beaded' drawers of dove-tail joined construction, all fitted with their original mercury-gilded 'swan-neck' brass drop-handles and brass key escutcheons (supplied with the original steel key). The projecting moulded cornice with carved 'Greek-key' type decoration above a shallow frieze section, the top with a flat boarded stage. The corners of the upper section with canted corner reeded uprights. The 3-drawer lower section raised on original substantial bold, shaped bracket feet. The drawer linings and backboards all constructed from elm, a regional manufacturing feature probably indicating West Country provenance. Good consistent rich colour and patination to a high-grade of well-chosen figured mahogany. Some minor evidence of historic, eradicated and treated woodworm to some of the elm construction. Has been thoroughly checked, cleaned and waxed in our workshops. A useful and elegant tall 2-part chest-of-drawers of practical proportions. Constructed in the traditional manner in 2 sections for ease of tra...
