Description

It's not often I come across frames like this especially with all the Mother of Pearl or Nacre shell, original and without damage; this one is all there in superb condition. The bronze frame retains all it's original gilding with a fabulous ribbon and bow cast and crowning the top of the frame. The shell is bright with a wonderful iridescent quality projecting a rainbow of colours and reflecting light. The back has a folding easel stand and a ring for hanging should you so wish. The easel is stamped with the makers initials. French in origin and dating to c.1890/1900 in excellent condition (wear to the back commensurate with age). 6 3/4" across x 7 7/8" tall to top of bow x 1/2" thick; the circular glazed aperture has a diameter measuring 4 5/8".
