Description

A really useful cabinet from around 1900 with a high level drawer and internal shelving. This continental cabinet boasts excellent burr walnut graining on the facing panels, good colour and the original cabinet furniture. In tidy and pretty much original condition it is one of those rare items that can fit in almost anywhere. Could go on a landing for linen or towels perhaps, in a bedroom for your clothes or in a dining room for plates, glasses, bottles or indeed anything else you might think of. A great looking cabinet too with the little corbels top and bottom and the little turned front feet, let alone that superb grain. It will not break your bank either.
