Description

This cast bed dates from the late 1800s. It is 4ft wide and has been extended on the length, it will therefore take a standard long mattress. Available from amazon or the big bed co and various other retailers. The bed is nice and clean having been repainted in the recent past in a hammered type enamel. The brass is all original, has some dents but is all there, right down to the small ball caps on the long rails. You will need a base and mattress of your choice. We can make a slat base for 80 plus vat if required, that is about cost in time and materials. These beds are really good if you want a slightly larger single bed or indeed make a small double for a spare room if space is a bit tight. This one may be the best bargain on the web site.....Sorry reserved.....
