Description

A large Group named 'The Cheats' being a superb example of the Italian Factory Manufacturer Capodimonte porcelain model No 330. Early examples are hard to find with this one being 1958. This large Group is marked in blue ink stamped into the porcelain and shows a crown symbol with words, made in Italy, showing on upper base. A group of young children playing cards while one person cheats with a hidden card under the table between his toes. The dog lying on the floor is oblivious to everyone. Don't miss the parrot sitting on the players shoulder. A large hand painted and crafted centrepiece of considerable weight and overall size. Measurements are 17 1/2 Inches Width x 14 Inches in Depth. The group are 12 Inches in height. The Condition is excellent with only a minute bit of the dogs collar missing, this being near impossible to spot. The Group are well presented on a oval polished wooden base plinth. In all a collectors piece full of character and excitement with colourful matt bisc finish. Great detail has been achieved especially in the expressions on the players faces. TELEPHONE ENQUIRIES 07765 856 171. VIEWING BY ARRANGEMENT. HOURS 10 AM -10 PM 7 DAYS A WEEK. PL...
