Description

Really fantastic pair of original French Empire period tub back armchairs, newly upholstered in classic antique French linen and finished with a double pipe edging. Circa 1840. The pair of armchairs are a generous size, so they are very comfortable and with the tub or barrel back shape, they are ideal for sitting in all evening. They are also a beautiful chair to look at from all sides! The solid mahogany show wood frames are very elegant, I especially like the sweeping show wood running from the base of the chair up the side to the top rail. Classic Empire style, but unusual to have the arms fully upholstered like this...generally you will find an "open" armchair without the upholstery. Also, comfort is enhanced by the feather cushion seat pad. The chairs can free stand in the centre of a room, or being tub back, they will fit a corner perfectly. Great pair of chairs and in lovely condition, the linen gives a crisp and clean finish, fitting both traditional and more contemporary interiors...hope you like them! Measuring: 35 1/2" or 90cm high 25" or 63.5cm wide 26" or 66cm deep 19" or 48.5cm cushion seat height 22" or 56cm across internal seat cushion Delivery to most ...
