Description

Here we have this Victorian rosewood military chest. This campaign chest would have been used by a British officer to transport his uniforms, personal items, and more valuable pieces around the Empire. Having flush brass corners and straps to protect this chest on its journey across the reaches of the British Empire. It is easy to forget that these were loaded on wagons, lashed to the decks of ships and endure the heat and hardship of being transported around India, the Jewel in the Crown of Queen Victoria's empire. The solid rosewood lid lifts open to reveal an open storage area, just imagine how much you could store in this trunk. These chests always spark the imagination, this will be a conversation piece as you can only wonder what this has seen in its long service. You will be able to use this in many places around your home, wherever you decide to place it the military chest will look superb. 76cms wide 30ins 42cms deep 16 1/2ins 47cms high 18 1/2ins All sizes are approximate, whilst we take time measuring, we can only give closest possible sizes.
