Description

Lovely early 19th century Georgian butchers block, c1800. It is a nice light colour with lovely patina and has aged beautifully with great undulation and marking from nearly 200 years of chopping and cutting. The top block detaches from the base which stands on shapely bulbous legs. It has its original metal edging straps. Overall condition is good with minor cracking/gapping around the edges and lots of surface marking from use - exactly as you would expect. There are historical woodworm holes, long dormant but treated anyway as a precaution and mostly on the underside of the chopping block. Please refer to the detailed photographs and feel free to contact me with any questions or if you would like to view the item. Size: 108 cm long x 77 cm tall x 61 cm wide. I will happily ship worldwide, but this is a large and heavy piece so please contact me for a bespoke quote for your Country.
