Description

Stunning William IV rosewood table standing collectors cabinet. Breakfront shape to the front with turned side column and carved decoration. The door with original needlework behind glass. The cabinet is finished all round in rosewood including the back. The cabinet has its original immaculate interior with cedar lined drawers with original tiny turned ebony knobs. The cabinet stands on its original turned rosewood bun feet. The cabinet is in very good original condition except for it looks like it originally had a spindle gallery to the top but to be quite honest it probably looks better without it. One side is a bit sun bleached. The cabinet has a superior patent Nettlefolds brass lock with working key. SIZE; 18 1/2" by 11" by 20" high CIRCA; 1830 - 1840
