Description

This is an antique pole screen. An English, Regency, walnut fire screen with needlepoint tapestry panel dating to the early 19th century, circa 1820. The adjustable screen panel is easy to position. Secured in place by a brass thumb screw. An expertly turned post rises to a delightful capping finial. The post is anchored to a hyperboloid platform. Standing upon turned bun feet. A narrow frame with inner gilded detail mounts the floral tapestry. An attractive antique pole screen. Solid and stable, delivered waxed, polished and ready for the home.
