Description

Early 19th century George III mahogany lamp table or candlestand. Nicely turned thin column with swept down legs and ball feet. The swept down legs have a very nice inlaid boxwood line decoration. The thick slightly dished top has a quadruple reeded edge which is a nice feature. The table is a nice original colour with good patination and waxed finish. There are no breaks to the legs but there is a hair line age shake to the top and the block underneath had to be replaced as the original beech one was wormy. It is NOT a marriage. SIZE; 13" diameter top. 29 1/2" high CIRCA; 1800 - 1820
