Description

GILLOWS of LANCASTER: a fine example of the iconic 2-tier DUMB WAITER produced by Gillows early in the 19th century. The two circular revolving tiers are beautifully veneered with raised edges and are supported on a central carved and fluted solid mahogany column. This leads to the "hipped" and reeded tripod legs which terminate in cast brass castors of fine quality. 22.5ins diameter; 31ins high. Although the original purpose of a dumb waiter was to hold condiments and sauces etc in the Dining Room, they are now of great use in a Drawing Room as side tables to hold drinks, newspapers and even TV remote controls etc.,!
