Description

Antique Regina pocket watch by Omega. This particular watch was originally made for the Canadian market. Omega branded watches had to be sold through officially franchised Omega dealerships. In order to increase sales in Canada, Omega branded some of their watches with different names which meant that the watches could then be sold to Canadian dealers who were not Omega franchisees. This particular watch has a good quality 17 jewel (two adjustments) stem-winding movement which is working nicely. The movement is fully signed and the serial number 5,229,869 dates it back to around 1918. Originally there would have been a micro regulator fitting but this has been removed over the years, but the regulator still operates as it should. The watch measures 48mm diameter excluding the winding stem and the loop. The case is gold filled and it is a nice quality case with screw-off bezel and back. The back of the watch has a beautiful Art Nouveau design and it is all in super condition. The acrylic lens is in good condition. The signed double sunk enamel dial is in lovely condition and has blued steel hands, a subsidiary seconds dial and outer minute markers with red numb...
