Description

Fine quality signed C19th satin-birch side cabinet or credenza by Marsh, Jones & Cribb with inlay in the manner of Owen Jones. The reverse of the cabinet retains the original manufacturer's paper label of "Marsh, Jones & Cribb", bearing a hand-written inventory or workshop number 47963, and the signature of the cabinet-maker or workman "Nicholson". The panelled back constructed of cedar and mahogany, another sign indicative of the build quality. The well-figured satin-birch and inlaid cabinet with curved glazed end doors and further oblong glazed panel ends. The central panelled door with ebonised and parcel-gilt mouldings centred by a large oval blue and white porcelain jasper-ware classically-inspired plaque in the style of Wedgwood, possibly depicting the Roman goddess of Plenty, surrounded with intricate marquetry inlaid decoration. The interior of the enclosed cupboard fitted with a single shelf. The top friezes, stiles and central panel, all with fine harewood, purpleheart and ebony marquetry inlay. The tops of the central stiles with square leaf carved blocks. The plinth base of stepped form with corresponding ebonised moulding. The style of the...
