Description

A fine example of a good quality solid silver dish dating from around 1900. It is made from heavy cast silver with an ornate scrolling rim of foliate and flowers around a central silver dish with stylish engraving that continues the pattern. The centre of the dish is engraved with scrolling initials above the date "Oct 8th 1879 - 1904". Presumably the bowl was made shortly before or after 1904, and this would tie in with the history of the company as well. The underneath of the dish is clearly hallmarked and stamped "Tilden-Thurber Co. 138S. Sterling. RW". It is a really well made piece, measuring approximately 24cm in diameter and weighing approximately 504g. It is in excellent condition for its age. There are no major damages and it displays beautifully. There are some faint surface marks and minor signs of age and use and a few surface scratches but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished and displays beautifully. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
