Fine quality early to mid 19th century walnut and brass sighting level. Nicely grained walnut body with solid brass top with raised bubble, solid brass ends and brass base. The base is designed so it can be fixed to a tripod. The level has its original clear bubble to the top and the sighting part through the main body also works. There are a couple of minor age cracks to the wood otherwise it is in pretty good condition for its age. Heavy. SIZE; 12" long by 3 1/2" high by 1 3/4" thick CIRCA; 1840 - 1860
