Description

Circa 1920-40 a very pretty version of a five tier glass drop ceiling light in good condition. The seven brass leaves around the top have glass diamond shape drops holding long glass 'icicles' that match the others on the light. Between the leaves are swags of more faceted glass drops. We replaced some of the brass fittings holding the glass drops into position to keep them secure. The light measures 45cm from the top of the ceiling hook to the very bottom of the drops. Postage and packing within the mainland UK is included in the price and for outside areas or abroad, please contact us for a delivery quote.
