Description

Circa 1930 this marble lamp has a little bird on one side and the light on the other. It has been rewired to UK specifications and fitted with an online switch and comes with an old flower shaped glass shade. The base of the lamp is 21cm in length, 9cm in depth and the bird is 12cm high. Everything is in good condition but the glass shade does have two slightly shorter petals around the sides where the tops have broken cleanly away. It is hardly noticeable and the price of the item reflects this. Postage within the UK mainland only is included in the price and for outside areas or abroad, please contact us for a delivery quote.
