Description

2 attractive Portuguese brass mounted rosewood low tables: similar tables are advertised widely by auctioneers and dealers with dates varying from the late 17th to the late 19th century. My feeling is our tables were made in the first half of the 19th century circa 1820-1840. Condition generally good with some missing brass and one stretcher has a missing applied section on its inside edge. Would make great coffee tables.
