Description

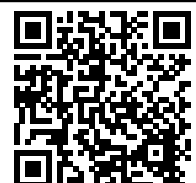

Circa 1910 a pair of ornate brass girandoles with three candle holders on each. They measure 48cm in length in total and are 24cm across at the widest point and still have the original mirrors that are 20cm in length by 12cm across. At the top of the ornate frames is an image of a cherub and at the base is a mythological face or possibly a Green Man. The details are excellent throughout. The frames and the bevelled mirrors are in good condition, with slight signs of wear in the glass to be expected with items of this age. Postage and packing within the UK mainland only is included in the price and for outside areas or abroad, please contact us for a delivery quote.
