Description

A lovely small mahogany drop-flap work table dating from the mid to late 19th Century. It is set on turned legs with two drawers at one end of the table and matching dummy drawers at the opposite end, all with their original turned wooden knobs. The drop leaves are supported by small hinged wooden flaps. It is a nice compact size for beside a bed or sofa. Width (closed) : 15" / 38cm Width (open) : 30" (76cm) It is in good original condition and displays very well. It is sturdy and in good order with a nice rich colour. The leaves are very slightly warped near the hinge but not so much as to affect the look of the table and they are easy to put up with a good even colour. The drawers open well and have their original blue penny paper linings. There are some minor marks and signs of age and use but nothing detrimental. It has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
