Description

French Refectory Style Country Oak Table This is a good piece of traditional French country made Oak furniture. The table has a planked Oak top and the base of the table is a traditional refectory style with double turned legs at each end joined by a central stretcher. The table is good and sound, being French there are signs of old woodworm this has been treated and killed and has not effected the look of the piece, it may be possible to remove the table top to give easy access in a difficult situation. The table is 83" long, 36" wide and 30" high.
