Description

A pair of late Victorian/early 20th C tall glass lamps that we think were once lily vases converted into lamps many years ago. They have recently been rewired using clear cable to UK specifications and fitted with replacement lamp holders and matching brass fittings to secure the candle cups. The lamps measure 63cm in height to the very top of the lamp holder, and the bases are approximately 14cm square. There are no signs of damage to the glass other than a tiny nick under one foot at the edge but it has been polished out and isn't noticeable. Because of the size and the fact they are glass, we would prefer it if the buyer could arrange a courier collection from us and we will pack them safely for transit. Alternatively, we can send them out using Parcelforce within the UK and please contact us with your postcode for a delivery quote, thank you.
