Description

An absolute gem of an inkwell, a rare find with an integral triple stamp dispenser and a mahogany lined compartment for dip pen nibs. The front panel of the inkwell is hinged and pulls down to reveal the nib compartment and the three gilt lined sections for postage stamps. There is a hallmark to the inside of this panel which matches the hallmark to the exterior of the main inkwell. The hallmark is for London 1903 together with the makers mark G B & Sons, a good Edwardian example. The large domed top is hinged with a gilded interior, when opened reveals the glass ink chamber removable for easy re-filling and cleaning. There is also an integral channel for one's dip pen to sit in to the front of the inkwell. Excellent condition (a couple if minuscule dents, insignificant but mentioned purely for accuracy) measuring 4 1/4" deep x 3" wide x 3" tall. A wonderful addition to a stamp box or inkwell collection. Item ID: 31625 ----- FREE Worldwide Registered Airmail; Insurance Optional.
