Description

A very fine Regency mahogany side table dating from the early 19th Century. It is set on elegant tapering turned legs with a raised gallery. It has two drawers, each with its original wooden turned knobs with floral decoration. Good proportions, perfect for a hallway or a small writing desk. Each drawer is stamped "James Winter. 101 Wardour St". James Winter is recorded as an important furniture dealer, broker and licensed appraiser based in Soho, London between 1823 and 1840. It is in excellent condition and is strong and sturdy. The drawers open well and are generally clean and tidy inside. The colour is rich and has a wonderful patina. There are some signs of age and use and light surface marks but nothing detrimental. There is a small repaired chip to the corner of one drawer but no other damages. It has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions please ask.
