Description

A striking 19th Century mahogany console table with the original grey marble top. The table has a full length frieze drawer, curving supports and a shaped lower shelf. This antique table is in good condition and it stands evenly and securely. The patina is good and the colour is rich. There are one or two very minor blemishes as one might expect with an antique piece of furniture, but as can be seen from the photographs, this is a very attractive table that would look stunning in a hallway or reception room. c.1880 Width: 46.5" (118cm) Depth: 19" (48cm) Height: 35.5" (90cm)
