Description

Fabulous 1930's Art Deco female shop mannequin. Sourced just outside of Paris, France this month and in good vintage condition with the usual bumps and bruises one would expect but no serious damage. She's very much in the style of Siegel or Stockman mannequins. She's a great size and would be a wonderful asset to any collection or prop for a dealer / retail display. The cloth covering her torso appears to be original too. Typical hair styling of the day with crimped waving which is complimented by her make-up which has been expertly applied in Deco pastel tones, all original. Please note : she's had a small restoration to the tip of her nose which had a tiny slither of plaster that had come away, only a close and very critical eye would you notice.
