Description

This Set of 8 William IV mahogany dining chairs were made circa 1820. This fine set of chairs were made in a high-end workshop, where the chairmaker chose high grade mahogany before starting the task of making these chairs. The joined turned and block cross stretcher is a feature for chairs made in Scotland. Scottish furniture typically was made with superb timber and fine quality carving. This set of 8 dining chairs consists of a pair of carver armchairs and a set of 6 matching side chairs. The top rails with scalloped top edge, and a roundel and foliate carving to each end. The back splat of a very rare and unusual design with the domino centre. The front turned legs joined to the back legs by a block and turned cross stretcher. The chairs have drop in seats upholstered in an old green material. ARMCHAIR 59cms wide widest across arms (23 1/4ins) 92cms high (36ins) 50.5cms deep (19 3/4ins) SIDE CHAIR 52cms wide (20 1/2ins) 89cms high (35ins) 50.5cms deep (19 3/4ins) All measurements are approximate These fine Antique dining chairs are a finite item that also is a very green product which has not affected the environment we live in.
