Description

This early 20th Century attractive stove, likely to be Belgian or French, has a well detailed body which would look fantastic as a decorative item with a light inside. To use as a stove it would need a new interior but as a decorating item it is better lit. There is a small crack in the lid, very small, not loose and hardly seen, there is a picture of this. The door opens as can be seen in the pictures and the lid comes off. Again as can be seen in these pictures it is very easy to light from the inside. It could also be used as a stand for a plant perhaps. If you would like to discuss give us a call 01565 874075. It is keenly priced at only £110 and carriage can be arranged with a specialist carrier for £60/70 to areas in the country. You may of course collect from our show rooms in Knutsford. The height given below is the total, to the square section top it is 83cms tall and the other two sizes are given from this area.
