Description

A very pretty pair of inlaid side or occasional tables from the 1900s. They are in lovely condition and all the mounts are in place. The tops are inlaid around the edge and have attractive burr grain in the centres. Probably French each has a useful little drawer in the front with the matching handles. As stated these are not a common find and will not be easy to replace once sold. The mounts are also on the rear of these tables so they don't have to go against a wall. Certainly not expensive at £545 for what they are. Delivery can be arranged to most areas at £60/70 with specialist carrier.
