Description

A very attractive, and in excellent condition, small single door cupboard. It is a charming little size and is a very useful size storage cupboard, that would work well in any room, including a hall, landing, cloakroom, bathroom, boot-room. The wood dates from around c.1910 and it is believed that this was once an old chest that was later turned in to a cupboard. It is in very nice clean condition ready for waxing or painting. The door is hung on external hinges, allowing it to open fully - a useful feature when accessing the cupboard. There is currently two adjustable shelves, and a drawer at the bottom. Please let us know if you'd like any more shelves made, alternatively it could accommodate a hanging rail as the internal depth is 17", deep enough for hangers.
