Description

A handsome 17th century style dresser geometric base, constructed in the 19th century from 17th century and later oak timbers. The dresser base comprises of eight drawers and two cupboards, both doors with working locks and keys. The drawers all have authentic 17th century brass knobs and have oak and pine linings. All of the drawers and the doors have applied moldings arranged in several different geometric designs to create a very busy and flamboyant frontage. The dresser base is robustly built and is in fantastic condition with superb colour and patination.
