A large antique pine storage cupboard, dating from about c.1920, with a single door (opening to the right), and a drawer at the bottom with its original small wooden knobs. The door is mounted on French style external hinges, so it fully opens. There are currently 3 shelves inside which just lift out if required. With an internal depth of 17", we could fit a hanging rail for you, so this could be used as a wardrobe if required: should be deep enough for hanging shirts etc, a little shallow for coats and suits.
