Description

A 19th century Dutch marquetry inlaid bombe bureau profusely decorated all over with marquetry depictions of flowers, urns and birds. With a rectangular flap opening to reveal a striking floral marquetry stepped fitted interior with a well, two small drawers support the flap and a further two short and two long drawers below provide plenty of useful storage. Ornate pierced brass handles and escutcheons decorated with birds and with a bombe front and sides and shaped apron, the whole piece stands on splayed feet. Good condition for age, has had some restorations and the usual repairs to the legs and shrinkage lines to the veneers (a result of the curved surfaces). Width - 40.25in (102.5cm) Depth - 20.5in (52cm) Height - 44in (111.5cm) Please feel free to contact us with any questions or for more photos. Ref: 0590 We can arrange to deliver of this to most UK mainland destinations, price will be from around £120 for one man delivery.
