Description

Large Edwardian Arts & Crafts style bureau bookcase c.1910. Very nearly five feet wide, in two pieces with a sliding door glazed bookcase top fitted with three adjustable shelves (10" depth) over a writing bureau base. Original leaded glazing to the doors with beautiful Art Nouveau leaf design. Fall front bureau opening to reveal a good sized writing surface with original faux leather skiver and fitted interior of pigeon holes, three small stationery drawers and a small cupboard. Over five large drawers, a cupboard on the left with an adjustable shaped vertical divider and, very unusually, a waste paper bin on the right with loose metal hopper behind a matching door front hinged at the bottom. Retaining the original Arts & Crafts style brass handles with large hoop grips, the pointed tips pierced with a delightful heart shaped detail. Superior quality cabinet making with solid oak sides, drawer linings and backboards. Maker's badge for Ralph Johnson of Warrington. Split to the skiver along the fold, otherwise excellent condition, cleaned and waxed in our workshops. Keys supplied. Dimensions: width 58", depth 22", height 86"
