Description

A charming small antique Edwardian mahogany Arts & Crafts hanging wall cabinet dating from circa 1905. It has an over sailing top above an arched open gallery and a single panelled door and pipe rack. The panelled door has its original copper drop handle, key and working lock. There is an applied carved motif to the panel door and chequered banding inlay above and below the door, which opens to reveal two removable oak shelves. Originally would have been a smokers cabinet but would make a great hall cupboard for keys or a wonderful bathroom cabinet. Construction/Wood: Stained Mahogany Condition Report: Wear and marks commensurate with age. Working lock and key. Old mend to the pipe rack section. Dimensions: Max Width: 36cm Max Depth: 20cm Height: 62cm Internal Cupboard: 23cm High x 42cm Wide x 14cm Deep
