Description

For your consideration is this rather nice rare find of a matching pair of Art Deco original table lamps, dating to the 1930's. For anyone who has tried to source pairs of Deco table lamps will know how difficult it really is. On first viewing one can't be unimpressed by both the heights of the lamps which give them an elevated appearance but also the excellent condition the lamps are in. Both are deceptively heavy, no cats will be knocking these over unless they've been visiting their local gym. The chrome stems have a mid way band of circles giving the lights a slight modernist / machine age feel. The segmented peach frosted glass shades finish these lamps off perfectly. A fabulous find, both lamps have been rewired and pat tested.
