Description

An impressive example of an early 20th century butler's bell box. This highly decorative wall mounted device originally would have graced the servants' quarters of a large and important house with butlers and chambermaids at the beck and call of the resident family upstairs. It has a hinged mahogany case with 25 indicators reverse-painted onto the original glass front. This iconic bell box, the finest we've seen in many years, is English, c.1910. ...
