Description

Victorian inlaid rosewood fitted box This Victorian inlaid rosewood fitted box was made circa 1860. The box is inlaid with brass, mother of pearl, and bone into intricate designs. The fine inlay work showed the skill of the craftsman who made this stunning box. The lid opens to reveal a fitted tray with silver plated lids on glass bottles. The tray lifts out to allow access to open storage. To the side by pulling out a brass pin a drawer opens on a spring to reveal a secret drawer to store a pocket watch, and rings and other valuables. This would make a wonderful gift as well as a gift to yourself of course. 30cms wide 12ins 21cms deep 8 1/2ins 17.5cms high 7ins All measurements are approximate This Antique rosewood inlaid fitted box is a finite item and a very green product that has not affected the environment we live in.
