Description

Leather revolving desk chair This leather revolving desk chair was made in the first half of the 20th. century, using the style of the Georgian period. When this was first retailed it would have been in one of the best retailers' showrooms of the period (by repute Harrods) and was made in very small quantities. Upholstered in the original finest grade green leather that has now aged to the desirable lightly worn look. Leather padded armrests are on the mahogany show-wood decorated arm supports that have fine carved roundels to the top and then with moulded channelling running down the arms. The revolving base with four mahogany legs coming from the mechanism that are fitted with fine brass square capped castors. Imagine how good this will look behind your desk. 107cms high 42ins 64cms widest 25 1/2ins 64cms deep 25 1/2ins 49.5cms seat height 19 1/2ins 51cms seat depth 20ins 49cms between arms at narrowest point 19ins All measurements are approximate This Leather revolving desk chair is a finite item and a very green product that has not affected the environment we live in.
