Description

Edward Wesson RI 1910-1983. Born in Blackheath, London Wesson was one of the great watercolourists of the 20th century. Largely self-taught, developing his own style of economic strokes to depict his subjects which included landscapes, river and coastal scenes; depicting the River Thames was also a favourite subject. His work spanned nearly half a century, ranging from the 1930s until his death in 1983 during which period he also taught extensively. He exhibited at RI, RBA and the Royal Society of Marine Artists. 'Sailing Vessels at Sea' signed watercolour, image size 32x50 cms, framed size 46.5x64cms
