Description

An Early Edwardian SOLID SILVER BOOKMARK made in a novelty trowel shape which has a slot in it so that the trowel can be slipped over a page in a book, marking it for you. The bookmark has a superbly embossed handle with an angel figure and the bookmark has not been engraved with a previous owner's initials or family monogram. The trowel shaped body has been impressed with a full set of English solid sterling silver hallmarks (see below) and the bookmark is in excellent condition despite being over 110 years old. Made by the well-known and sought after silversmiths of Chrisford & Norris in 1904, this Superb Early Edwardian Book or Page Marker would make a superb addition to any collection or a gift that can still be used today. Condition: Used / Excellent There is no damage and no repairs.
