Description

This pretty inlaid burr walnut Davenport is in tidy condition. We have given it a clean and a rewaxing but otherwise it is in original condition. all the handles are in place on both sides and there is an internal drawer. The leather has been replaced in its life and is nice and clean. The graining is good in the timber and the inlays are all in place. It also boasts a rare item, the key! and the fall locks as it should. There are two spaces for inks in the top and a place to keep your pen from falling off, nice little details. A good clean good looking little item in very tidy condition for a really keen price. Difficult to find a better deal we suspect for a Davenport in this condition, of this quality and age.
