Description

Mahogany twin pillar dining table This solid mahogany twin pillar dining table was made at the start of the 20th century using timber from a larger Georgian dining table that had become redundant or too large for a later owner. The table with 2 D-ends and a further 2 leaves to extend the table. The leaves are supported by a pair of supports that are stored under the table and then slide on runners as the table is pulled open. A pair of mahogany turned gun barrel columns with the quadruple legs support the table. Each leg is fitted with the wonderful cast brass toes with the castors under. The table can be used with no leaves or using just one or both extra leaves. It makes for a very versatile dining table to suit the sitting you require as you entertain your family and friends. As this table does not have a leg to each corner you can entertain more people around it. Imagine how wonderful this dining table will look in your dining area. 265.5cms long fully extended 104 1/2ins 112cms wide 44ins 71cms high 28ins 165cms closed without leaves in place 65ins 2 x extra leaves, each 49.5cms 19 1/2ins All measurements are approximate This Mahogany twin pillar dining table is a f...
