Description

This small Mahogany Chest of drawers dates from around 1800. It has been French polished and is now in great condition with good colour and finish. The neat little handles have been in place for around 100 years would guess and the cock beaded drawers have been made solid so there should be not issues in that area for another couple of hundred years. The graining is good as can be seen in the pictures and the whole chest sits on neat bracket feet, this highlighting those classic simple Georgian lines. A lovely little item that can fit in almost anywhere. Delivery can be arranged to most areas for £60/70 by specialist carrier.
