Description

A lovely and imposing Dutch silver and glass Drageoir. In France, where they originate, they are called 'Drageoir' or 'Confiturier'. The only official name is a 'Confiturier' (hence a jam container) and it seems that originally they may have been used as Ceremonial Sugar Bowls. The body is Baluster shaped and of blue flashed glass in the Bohemian taste. It is supported on a solid silver pedestal base with cast details. The silver handle is looped and decorated. The cover is decorated in matching motifs to the base and there is a spoon aperture. An outstanding and rare piece for the collector, with a practical use. Dimensions below. Postage and packing £15.00 UK £25.00 Worldwide Condition :- Excellent, with no splits or dents to the silver and no chips or cracks to the glass. Origin :- Dutch. Hallmarks :- Dutch marks with possible German import marks. Date :- c1870. Height :- 16.5 cms. (highest point). Width to outside of handle :- 10.5 cms. Base dimensions :- 5 cms. x 5 cms.
