Description

Edwardian mahogany camel back sofa This Edwardian mahogany camel back sofa is upholstered in fine English leather. The mahogany sofa has the classic shape of a Chippendale piece, with the camel humpback, square moulded legs and with the pierced fretted stretchers joining the legs. We have used our specialist upholsterers and leather craftsmen to completely strip this back to the frame and then to bring it back to this wonderful finish. The leather is not off a pre coloured roll as you would find elsewhere but it is hand coloured, before being antiqued, finished with great skill and care. The Edwardian mahogany camel back sofa has hundreds of brass headed studs tapped in individually, each one taking skill and patience to do this laborious job. The loose cushion is feather filled, making this a very comfortable sofa to relax on. Imagine relaxing back on here and enjoying socialising with your family and friends. Under the seat at the front apron, the studwork has made decorative panels and then little motifs. This is a one off and you cannot find another the same elsewhere. 207cms wide 81 1/2ins 89cms high 35ins 89cms deep 35ins 53cms seat height 21ins 64cms seat d...
