Description

Very large and very attractive antique pine shop counter, which nowadays would be used as a kitchen island/worktop/sideboard. Dating from c1920's. In excellent condition throughout, with plenty of storage space, including many drawers (some of which have partitioning), a cupboard and shelving. The panelled back and sides allows this to be a free standing piece to be admired from any angle. The surface top has been made from chunky hard wood, so very hard wearing, and will look fantastic once oiled. Height 33', width 101", depth 31"
