Description

Regency mahogany worktable This Regency mahogany worktable was made circa 1820. The top with the wide satinwood crossbanding lifts to reveal a shallow storage compartment that was formally fitted for sewing tools and cottons. Below the top is a drawer that has the original brass peg that locks the drawer from the top section. It stands on fine ring turned double end supports with similar joining stretchers. These tables are so elegant and can fit into so many places around your home 48cms wide 19ins 38cms deep 15ins 76.5cms high All dimensions are approximate. This Regency mahogany worktable is a finite piece of antique furniture that is a very green product which has not affected the environment we live in.
